

September 17, 2010

Dear Fulbrighter:

Regrettably, I must inform you that we are postponing the Simón Bolívar: An American Vision Symposium, which was due to be held on October 12, 2010.

The symposium organizers – the Carr Center for Human Rights Policy at the Harvard Kennedy School, LASPAU, the Massachusetts Fulbright Association and businessman and philanthropist Wilmer Ruperti – are committed to convening a high caliber meeting of the minds worthy of Simón Bolívar and his historical influence. Unfortunately, unforeseen circumstances of logistics and scheduling have arisen, causing us to postpone the activities. We are working to schedule a new date later in the year and hope you can join us then.

On behalf of the organizing committee, we would like to apologize for the postponement and any inconveniences it may cause. Thank you for your commitment and patience in this matter. We will be in touch with you soon regarding a new date for the symposium. In the meantime, please feel free to contact Leonardo Vivas with questions at phone number 617-496 4120 or at this email address. We look forward to gathering with you later this year.

Sincerely,

Leonardo Vivas
Carr Center for Human Rights Policy at the Harvard Kennedy School

Ned Strong
LASPAU: Academic and Professional Programs for the Americas

James Reed
Massachusetts Fulbright Association